AN ACT relating to property assessments.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 132.191 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The General Assembly recognizes that Section 172 of the Constitution of Kentucky requires all property, not exempted from taxation by the Constitution, to be assessed at one hundred percent (100%) of the fair cash value, estimated at the price the property would bring at a fair voluntary sale, and that it is the responsibility of the property valuation administrator to value property in accordance with the Constitution.

(2) The General Assembly further recognizes that property valuation may be determined using a variety of valid valuation methods, including but not limited to:

(a) A cost approach, which is a method of appraisal in which the estimated value of the land is combined with the current depreciated reproduction or replacement cost of improvements on the land;

(b) An income approach, which is a method of appraisal based on estimating the present value of future benefits arising from the ownership of the property with the valuation specifically including but not limited to:

1. Rental income pursuant to an existing lease;

2. Terms of any existing lease allocating financial duties related to the operation and maintenance of leased property;

3. Terms of any existing lease allocating financial duties related to the payment of insurance premiums, property taxes, and any other governmentally imposed expenditures applicable to leased property;

4. Terms of any existing lease establishing a rental amount as fixed or based upon sales revenue recognized by a lessee;

5. Terms of any existing lease establishing the length or duration of the leasehold; and
6. Terms of any existing lease related to a rental increase, decrease, setoff, abatement, and any defense to payment;

(c) A sales comparison approach, which is a method of appraisal based on a comparison of the property with similar properties sold in the recent past;

1. Properties that shall be considered similar properties for purposes of the sales comparison approach include but are not limited to:
   a. Sales or rentals of properties exhibiting the same or a similar use with placement in the same real estate market segment; and
   b. Sales or rentals of properties that are similar to the property being assessed with regard to age, condition, use, type of construction, location, design, physical features, and economic characteristics, including similarities in occupancy and the potential to generate rental income.

2. Properties shall not be considered similar properties for purposes of the sales comparison approach if any of the following applies:
   a. At or before the time of sale, the seller places any deed restriction on the property that changes the use of the property, or prohibits competition, so that it no longer qualifies as a similar property under subparagraph 1. of this paragraph and the property being assessed lacks the same type of restriction; or
   b. The property is dark property and the property being assessed is not dark property.

3. As used in this paragraph:
   a. "Dark property" means property that is vacant or unoccupied beyond the normal period for property in the same real estate market segment; and
b. “Real estate market segment” means a pool of potential buyers and sellers that typically buy or sell properties similar to the property being assessed, including potential buyers who are investors or owner-occupants. The pool of potential buyers and sellers may be found locally, regionally, nationally, or internationally; and

(d) A subdivision development approach, which is a method of appraisal of raw land:

1. When subdivision and development are the highest and best use of the parcel of raw land being appraised; and

2. When all direct and indirect costs and entrepreneurial incentives are deducted from the estimated anticipated gross sales price of the finished lots, and the resultant net sales proceeds are then discounted to present value at a market-derived rate over the development and absorption period.

(3) The valuation of a residential, commercial, or industrial tract development shall meet the minimum applicable appraisal standards established by:

(a) The Kentucky Department of Revenue, as stated in its Guidelines for Assessment of Vacant Lots, dated March 26, 2008; or

(b) The International Association of Assessing Officers.

(4) To be appraised using the subdivision development approach, a subdivision development shall consist of five (5) or more units. The appraisal of the development shall reflect deductions and discounts for:

(a) Holding costs, including interest and maintenance;

(b) Marketing costs, including commissions and advertising; and

(c) Entrepreneurial profit.

(5) The appraisal of real property shall:
(a) Meet the minimum applicable appraisal standards established by the International Association of Assessing Officers;

(b) Reflect the reasonable, probable, and most profitable use of the property that is legally permissible, physically possible, and financially feasible; and

(c) Take into consideration any value that is added to a property from a lease that encumbers the property.
